LAKE CLIFTON HISTORY

Located on Old Coast Road between Mandurah and Preston Beach, Lake Clifton is adjacent to the lake of the same name and falls within the boundaries of both Shire of Waroona and City of Mandurah.

Established in 1920 to support WA Portland Cement Co's lime deposit mine, Lake Clifton was a busy company town until the mine's closure late in 1923.

Later, during World War II, Lake Clifton was considered a likely landing place for enemy planes wishing to invade Australia so observation posts were set up along that length of coast.

Today Lake Clifton is known for its environmental and cultural value. Home to living thrombolites, one of the earliest known life forms on earth, this unusual site raises a number of questions around endangered ecosystems and cultural anthropology.

TEN MAGNIFICENT LAKES

With ten magnificent elongated lakes, beautiful woodlands of peppermint and tuart, and what is possibly the longest thrombolite reef in the southern hemisphere, Yalgorup National Park covers an area of 12,888 hectares making it the largest national park on the Swan Coastal Plain.

Protecting an internationally recognized wetland system it stretches from just south of Mandurah to north of Myalup and supports several threatened plant and animal species.

Recreational use of the lakes (e.g. boating, fishing, swimming) is not permitted and dogs are not permitted in Yalgorup National Park.

THROMBOLITES

Off Mount John Road you will be introduced to the fascinating world of a rare thrombolite colony, a modern-day example of those that existed around 600 million years ago.

A boardwalk leads out over the lake for easy viewing and nearby is Lakeside Loop, a 2 hour return, 5km trail that follows the shoreline for stunning close-up views.

HARVEY RIVER RAMBLE

Situated at the southern end of the John Tognela Rest Area (corner of Forrest Highway and Dorsett Road) a 2.1km return trail meanders along the river through wetlands and past historic sites. Despite its proximity to the highway the trail is tranquil and the birds and flowers plentiful. Back at the rest area a community project has resulted in the installation of stunning art work depicting the history of the area.

This is a popular stop for travellers ready to stretch their legs while learning more of the area's history and culture. Public toilets & shade.

LIME KILN PICNIC AREA

The first part of the Lime Kiln Precinct development, the site has historical interpretive boards and you can view remnants of the past. Newnham Road, southern entry.

EXPERIENCE PRESTON BEACH naturally

PRESTON BEACH HISTORY

Preston Beach became renowned in the early 1950s as a great place for fishing and it has the same reputation today. Common species include whiting, herring, skippy and salmon when they run.

4WD FRIENDLY BEACHES

Four wheel drive enthusiasts can enjoy a seemingly endless sweep of pristine beach and fresh sea air on a 60km stretch between Tim's Thicket to the north and Binningup to the south.

As with all adventure pursuits it is important to have some experience and to do the necessary research.

For safety reasons only licenced drivers and 4WD vehicles are permitted so no motorbikes, four wheelers or dune buggies. A strict no camping policy applies although overnight fishing is permitted and whilst camp fires are not allowed, gas cookers are.

In order to preserve this beautiful environment for future generations, access to the dunes is prohibited to vehicles and sandboarding. Visitors are also asked to take their rubbish with them.

FACILITIES

Preston Beach carpark has five 24hr RV free stay bays available 1 May to 31 Oct, ablution block with disabled facilities, children's playground, lawn area, shaded tables and free electric barbecues.

THE LAKES & BIRDLIFE

Lake Preston is situated within Yalgorup National Park which has well signposted walking trails, barbecues and toilet facilities. Take in the idyllic surrounds amidst wonderful old tuart trees, see kangaroos and emus, and prolific wildflowers in season.

Moving further from the coast, the country changes dramatically as the trees thin out and the plains emerge. The plains and listed Ramsar wetlands support many water birds such as the elegant black swans that come to breed from October to March, and the endangered hooded plover. Black duck, teal, mountain duck and maned geese are also plentiful.

WALK TRAILS

In the Nyoongar language Yalgorup means "a place of lakes or swamps" aptly describing this park with its ten elongated lakes that run in a chain.

Lake Preston Walking Trail

2km disabled friendly trail from the Preston Beach Information Bay through natural bush and groves of melaleucas to the lake.

6km, Class 2, approx 2 hours return, starts just past the entrance to Martins Tank Campground on Preston Beach Rd North. Woodlands of jarrah, tuart, peppermint and bull banksia, vistas of Lake Pollard where there is a bird hide. Black swans mass Oct-Mar.

EXPERIENCE WAROONA & HAMEL naturally

HISTORIC HAMEL

Hamel, just a few minutes south of Waroona, is a town rich in history. Hamel Hall, built by prisoners around 1902, has shaded picnic tables and free gas barbecues.

Information boards provide visitors with an insight into the area's history and its contribution to the development of the Shire and the State of Western Australia.

On Burney Road is the site formerly known as Hamel Nursery. Between 1925 and 1957 a total of 4.5 million trees of different varieties were produced here and flowers from the nursery were sent to Perth to decorate the Premier's Office. The site is now a popular picnic spot with a babbling stream, heritage listed trees, shaded picnic tables and four short walks.

The Hamel Wetland Walk, just off Cornucopia Street, has trail markers to guide walkers along the 1.1km class 2 return trail.

The wetland supports more than 30 species of birds and 11 species of frogs. An interpretation shelter at the end of the trail provides a spectacular view of the birdlife particularly during nesting season.

ORGANIC & FARM GATE

Scattered throughout the Shire are roadside stalls selling seasonal produce. Hamel Homegrown on James Road is known for its delicious organic fruit and vegetables. In Waroona, Hoots Honey have a stand on Birch Street.

WAROONA HISTORY

Waroona is a quiet, RV friendly country town nestled on the slopes of the Darling Ranges. Settlers began to arrive in the 1830s although Drakesbrook (later to be known as Waroona) did not come into its own until the Pinjarra to Picton railway line was opened in 1893.

As in many small towns of the time, dances, picnics and football formed the core of social life within the community. Today agriculture, bauxite mining and tourism are important contributors to the local economy.
